

BCSE 2018 Membership Meeting Highlights

---

Thank you to all the members that participated in the BCSE 2018 Membership Meeting. Thank you also to our hosts, the American Gas Association, and our meeting sponsors, Capital Power and the Corn Refiners Association.

---

- The membership approved the 2019/2020 Board of Directors
- Bill Wehrum, Assistant Administrator for Air and Radiation at Environmental Protection Agency, opened the meeting with a discussion of priorities, including the Affordable Clean Energy rule, the Safe and Fuel Efficient Vehicles rule, Mercury and Air Toxics standards, and New Source Review.
- Kate Chisholm, Capital Power, and Debbie Kimberly, Austin Energy, gave lunch keynotes on clean energy and changing business strategies.
- Mary Neumayr, Dee Siegel, and Alexander Herrgott, from the White House Council on Environmental Quality, shared major infrastructure and siting policy developments.
- Two expert panels presented on timely challenges and opportunities for tax policy and pathways to a low carbon future, highlighting the recent AGA Report on residential electrification.
- BCSE also welcomed new member Capital Power.

In the afternoon, BCSE members met with congressional staff in both the House and Senate to discuss fiscal year 2019 appropriations, tax reform, and infrastructure priorities.

---

BCSE followed the Membership Meeting with a reception at Stanton & Greene. BCSE President Lisa Jacobson and Board Chairman Mark Wagner presented the BCSE Distinguished Leadership Award to Kateri Callahan, former head of the Alliance to Save Energy.

---

Meeting materials are available for download here:

2018 Membership Meeting eBinder

Membership Meeting Sliddeck

---

Thank you to our meeting sponsors

---

Thanks to the Corn Refiners Association and Veteran Compost, all of the plateware, utensils, cups and napkins used at the meeting will be turned into compost!

---

Thank you for your support of the Business Council for Sustainable Energy. We look forward to another great year of advancing clean energy together.