Co-hosted by the Alliance to Save Energy and the Business Council for Sustainable Energy, this event will highlight how U.S. clean energy and energy efficiency executives and thought leaders are powering positive impacts toward meeting climate goals—and magnifying these impacts through international public-private collaboration.

PANEL 1: U.S. PRIVATE SECTOR BUILDS CONFIDENCE FOR CLIMATE ACTION 16:00 – 16:45

This panel will showcase how the contributions of the private sector, through clean energy technologies, carbon markets and corporate leadership on climate action can build confidence and create both market opportunities and political space for greater and faster political ambition.

PANEL 2: ACCELERATING IMPACT THROUGH INTERNATIONAL COLLABORATION, COALITIONS AND CAMPAIGNS 16:45 – 17:30

This panel will highlight how private sector coalitions and campaigns can help governments turn increased ambition into climate impacts. With a focus on energy efficiency, panelists involved in the Three Percent Club and other coalitions will discuss opportunities to dramatically scale up climate action through increased international collaboration.
